The Weekender

Meaningful adjacency

Dr. Thomas Martin

Back in May of 2019, I got the opportunity to visit the 9/11 memorial in New York City. While there, I learned a new term-meaningful adjacency. The names at that space are not put on the memorial randomly, or even alphabetically, but next to other people that had connections with that person who also died as a result of the terrorist attacks that day. You have brothers who served as police or firemen in different brigades or divisions placed next to each other. You have friends and relatives and roommates and co-workers represented side-by-side. All were placed there with intention to remind those of us who visit about our interconnectedness.

It is hard these days to have a conversation with anyone about anything without someone thinking it is a political statement or judgment upon a way of thinking. In fact, the more I invite people into meaningful conversation, the more and more I find that we probably disagree. But that's not a bad thing. In fact, it encourages us to find meaning together in shared space--with meaningful adjacency.

In 2019, our son asked what happened on September 11, 2001 to make it a holiday (on the school lunch menu where he chooses whether to buy or take his lunch, it is called Patriot Day and that prompted the question). I fumbled through an answer about evil and fear and the resilience of people. I remembered that as Christians we are not to live in fear but in love. I tried to tell as honestly as I could, for an eight-year old, about the terror and fear I felt that day. In that moment of trying to find words, I remember meaningful adjacency. I was able to speak with certainty about the things in life that matter, the things that keep us together, that unite us, and that hold us even in the midst of terror and fear.

Lives were lost on that day. Families were forever changed. The world view that many of us held was changed in a matter of minutes. Yet we were drawn together. And as our country and our world pieced our stories together, as we struggled to see the light in the midst of darkness, as we emerged from the rubble of tragedy, we found meaningful adjacency in those closest to us in our darkest moments.

My friends, let us be of one mind in Christ Jesus. Let us live lives filled with meaningful adjacency grounded in the love of Jesus Christ. May we live in a way that our adjacency to God and to others, brings us a deeper meaning of this life and of the life to come.

Handbells, anyone? Let's meet up Wednesday, September 14

Are you ready for the joyful sound of handbells in worship again? We are looking to resume handbells this fall. Do you play? Can you share the news with others who may be ready for this opportunity?

We will have an organizational meeting on Wednesday, September 14, at 6 PM in Room C-345. Just show up then or you may contact Judy Hames, jhames@bellsouth.net, 770-710-6077, with any questions.

Fellowship Dinner: Wednesday, September 14

What's for dinner? Find the weekly menu at FayettevilleFirst.com. Meals will be offered from a local restaurant each week. September 14 Meal: Georgia Potato Factory: Broccoli Chicken and Cheese Potato, Dessert

Sign up here for permanent or weekly meal reservations.

"A Walk in the Garden" Salad Luncheon is September 15

All Ladies! We have another wonderful opportunity to join together for food, fellowship and ministry. Join us for A Walk in the Garden and Salad Luncheon presented by the United Women in Faith (UMW) on Thursday, September 15, at 11:30 a.m. in our beautifully renovated Fellowship Hall. Breathing new life into the stories of Biblical women, Carla Cloud, A Gentle Witness, will bring to life what it was like to walk in Eve's shoes and the freedom we can receive from God. Carla is coming back by popular demand after so beautifully portraying what life was like for Mary, the mother of Jesus.

Please bring a salad to share; desserts will be provided. We will collect a love offering to honor Carla. Reservations are due by Monday, September 12. UMW members should make reservations through their circles. All others can contact Susan Burch, 678-523-7329 or showburch@gmail.com. We hope to see you there!!

FFUMC Youth NEWS

Youth Foundry Fellowship

Wednesday nights, 6 – 8 PM

6th - 12th grade students will gather each Wednesday for games, worship and topic conversations as they reflect on God's action in the world and the part they play in it.

Youth Mission Trip Thank You Lunch

September 11, 12:30-2 PM in The Foundry

Did you support the youth summer mission trips financially and/or prayerfully? We want to thank you for your kind contributions and support! Join mission trip participants in conversation and ask us your questions as we share more about our stories and experiences while having lunch together. RSVP is not required, but appreciated \(click here\).

Overnight camping for youth and parents September 24

All youth and their parents are invited on an overnight camping trip to North Georgia. We'll be staying at Cooper Creek Campground (near Suches, GA), with plenty of time for fishing, playing games, hiking as a group to Preacher's Rock, and telling stories around the campfire. It's going to be a great opportunity for building relationships with other youth and parents and spending time out in God's incredible creation as well.

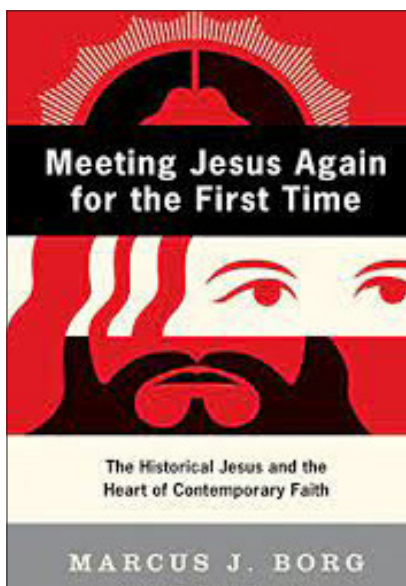

All participants will need to provide their own camping gear (tents, sleeping items, personal coolers, fishing rods, etc.), snacks, and any preferred drinks other than water. FFUMC will provide lunch, dinner, and breakfast at the campsite, along with water and s'mores.

Sign up deadline is Friday, September 23 or until all spots are filled.

***This trip is for youth who are 6th-12th grade, their siblings or friends who are also 6th-12th grade, and their parents.

Study Class (aka Book Club) begins Marcus Borg book September 11

Thoughtful discussions resume September 11 in The Study Class as we explore Marcus Borg's "Meeting Jesus Again for the First Time." With others, jump into what the latest Biblical scholarship means for personal faith. "Marcus Borg addresses the yearnings of those who want a fully contemporary faith that welcomes rather than oppresses our critical intelligence and openness to the best of historical scholarship. Borg shows how a rigorous examination of historical findings can lead to a new faith in Christ, one that is critical and, at the same time, sustaining." Get the book from your favorite bookseller and prepare to discuss Chapter 1 on September 11 at 9:45 a.m. in Room C-270. Questions? Contact Tim Aycock at timaycock@gmail.com.

Kickoff for Seasoned Singers: September 13

Come kickoff a new season of music with the Seasoned Singers on Tuesday, September 13, at 1:30 PM in the choir room. Plan to stay after for a party in the Fellowship Hall honoring summer birthday folks and other special acknowledgements. Anyone who enjoys singing is invited to join our group which meets most Tuesdays at 1:30 PM. We especially invite former members of the group to attend this special party. Questions? Contact Deb Cole, 770-826-7451.

Thank you

To the Faithful Flower Ministry Team:

You really know how to make us feel special. The beautiful flowers delivered to our home have brightened our days. Knowing the flowers were a part of worship prior to being shared with us gives us a sense of connection to Sunday morning worship. May you know what a big impact your ministry has on its recipients.

— With grateful hearts, Allen, Julie, Don, Harry & Sarah Nell Harp

Fall is off to a good start

This week marked a new season at FFUMC with a return to activities we have been missing. It's good to be together again!

Our seniors began Titus II with their annual "special request" bluegrass music program presented by Danny Beck, Bill Webb, Royce Anderson, and Thomas Martin. Jean Aument (bottom right) was one of the table decor winners.

Wednesday nights kicked off with a return to Fellowship Dinners in the renovated fellowship hall. Be sure to make your reservation to join in next week. FFUMC KiDS enjoyed a video game truck and outdoor adventure. Our "colorful" youth group got messy in The Field. All the while, adults began Wednesday evening studies. FFUMC is ready for discipleship, ministry, and fellowship.
