

Meet Allie Hansen

Allie Hansen was born in Birmingham, Alabama, and in her teens, her family relocated to North Augusta, South Carolina. After graduation from Augusta Prep in Augusta, Georgia, Allie went on to graduate from New York University's Tisch School of the Arts with a B.F.A. in Theatre, specializing in costume design.

She has interned at Jim Henson Company and worked on a variety of film and theatrical productions, both during and after college. To supplement her artistic endeavors, she also worked as a nanny for several years, where she discovered a passion for working with children.

In 2010, she married Nicholas Hansen and they have 3 young children: Xander, Connor, and Thea. Working with the Children's Ministry at FFUMC has allowed her to incorporate both her passion for teaching and helping kids and her passion for creating. Vacation Bible School and M.A.D. Camp are two of her favorite times of year.
