Genesis 1:1-5

¹In the beginning when God created the heavens and the earth, ²the earth was a formless void and darkness covered the face of the deep, while a wind from God swept over the face of the waters. ³Then God said, 'Let there be light'; and there was light. ⁴And God saw that the light was good; and God separated the light from the darkness. ⁵God called the light Day, and the darkness he called Night. And there was evening and there was morning, the first day.

Questions for discussion:

Where have you seen God bring definition out of chaos or voids in your life?

Looking at this current season of your life as a time of new beginnings where can you feel God separating the 'light from the darkness' today? (Note that God calls the light good but does not call the dark bad.)

What new or renewed ways can you participate with God as God continues to create the world around us?

Ponder these questions and share as you are comfortable:

- What known sins have you committed since our last meeting?
- What temptations have you met with?
- How were you delivered?
- What have you thought, said, or done, of which you doubt whether it be sin or not?
- Have you nothing you desire to keep secret?
